Preparing Crews for New Fuels

An Evening Seminar

Tuesday 5 December 2023

At the Offices of Thomas Miller
90 Fenchurch Street, London EC3M 4ST

Drinks from 17:30, Seminar 18:15 - 20:00, drinks until 22:00

The development in ship propulsion over the next few decades could be as fundamental as Sail to Steam or Steam to Motor, but this time demand is driving the technology, rather than the other way around. So how can we prepare for this when we don't even know what that technology is yet?

A panel of industry experts will look at the prominent candidates among potential alternative fuels, assess their pros and cons, including practical challenges, especially to safety, and consider how we can best prepare seafarers for the future.
